NO. 37.

DOES INGERFOLISM.

Friedrich Schlegel's Essay.

Heresy is a trade, for theology a coffin.

Truth scorns the assistance of miracles.

An honest God is the noblest work of man.

In defiance of advice the world has advanced.

The world is my country, and to do good my religion.

The grossest absurdities have been declared to be self-evident facts.

Salvation through slavery is worthless. Salvation from slavery is inestimable.

The great trouble with imitation is, that we are apt to ape those who are in reality far below us.

In my judgment, every human being should take a road of his own.

If a man has loved and been loved, although he be a pauper, his life is a success.

Great men seem to be a part of the infinite—brothers of the mountains and the seas.

Man has no ideas, and can have none except those suggested by his surroundings.

Our ancestors not only had their god-fictories, but they made devils as well.

I do not say, and I do not believe, that Christians are as bad as their creeds.

In nearly all theologies, mythologies and religions, the devils generally sympathize with man.

The order of nature has been, as it were, reversed, that the hypocritical few might govern the honest many.

Society demands either that you belong to some church or that you suppress your opinions.

A believer is a bird in a cage, a free-thinker is an eagle parting the clouds with tireless wing.

Beyond nature man cannot go even in thought—above nature he cannot rise—below nature he cannot fall.

Through all the centuries gone, the mind of man has been beleaguered by the mailed hosts of superstition.

A bachelor is like a man sitting down to a feast and voluntarily invoking the lock jaw.

Give any orthodox church the power, and to day they would punish heresy with whip, and chain, and fire.

Custom meets us at the cradle and leaves us only at the tomb.

Our first questions are answered by ignorance, and our last by superstition.

To speak the praises of the brave and thoughtful dead is to me a labor of gratitude and love.

We need free bodies and free minds—free labor and free thought—chainless hands and letterless brains.

Free labor will give us wealth. Free thought will give us truth.

We are not forging fetters for our children, but we are breaking those our fathers made for us.

Nearly all people stand in great horror of annihilation, and yet to give up your individuality is to annihilate yourself.

In the presence of the great unknown and unknowable every American citizen has the right to do his own guessing.

There is an "irrepressible conflict" between religion and science, and they cannot peaceably occupy the same brain nor the same world.

Love is the only thing in God's world which will pay ten percent interest to both parties, and in which the light of extravagance is the last shred of economy.

Ours is the first Government made by the people for the people. It is the only nation with which the gods have had nothing to do.

The liberty of action is the right to do right, and the liberty of thought is the right to think right or the right to think wrong.

Over the vast plain called life we are all travelers, and not one traveler is perfectly certain that he is going in the right direction.

There is no saying more degrading than this: It is better to be the tail of a lion than the head of a dog. It is a responsibility to think and act for yourself.

When women reason and babes sit in the lap of philosophy, the victory of reason over the shadowy host of darkness will be complete.

Science, the great iconoclast, has been busy since 1809, and by the highway of progress are the broken images of the past.

In that vast cemetery called the "past," are most of the religions of men, and there, too, are nearly all their gods.

Why should we want the beheading of China and kill our own? Why should we send missionaries over the seas and soldiers over the plains? Why should we send Bibles to the east and muskets to the west?

Women have been the slaves of slaves, and it has taken millions of years to enfranchise them; even the ornaments of their persons, but the badges of servitude. The golden bracelet was once the manacle of iron.

Give me the storm and tempest of thought and action, rather than the dead calm of ignorance and faith! Banish me from Eden when you will, but first let me eat of the fruit of the tree of knowledge!

Mental slavery is mental death, and every man who has given up his intellectual freedom is the living coffin of his dead soul. In this sense, every church is a cemetery, and every creed an epitaph.

There are men who will trust their hearts and honors with women, but not a dollar of money. Such men have correct ideas as to which is the most valuable in their own particular cases.

Liberty is simply a question of intellectual development, and every man who is not willing to give to every other man the right to free thought which he claims for himself is a natural rascal.

Science took a handful of sand, constructed a telescope, and with it explored the starry depths of heaven. Science wrested from the gods their thunder-bolts; and now the electric sparks, freighted with thought and love, flashes under all the waves of the sea. Science took a tear from the cheek of unpaid labor, converted it into steam, created a giant that turns with tireless arm the countless wheels of toil.

BITS OF FUN

Mr. Mooly says if you cannot be a light-house be a candle. But, Mr. Moody, a candle is wicked.

A Yankee seven year old school boy says "a, e, i, o, u and sometimes w and y are the bowels of the alphabet."

It is said that Eve was made for Adams Express Company, but this is probably a fragment of some common carrier of slander.

Experience is a wise teacher, but the man who feels a June bug creeping inside of his trousers' leg has no resource save in his natural ability.

The King of Holland has offered to send 40,000 tulips to the Paris Exposition of 1878. He will also send some of his gin to keep the two lips moist.

"What is a bat?" asks a contemporary. As far as our education extends, a bat is a thing to encourage a cat to get off a back fence, and is composed of half a brick.

The balmy breath of Spring is so entwined with the fragrance of new onions that a man has to grip his nose with a spring clothes pin every time he stoops to pluck a violet.

If the editor of a country newspaper could get verbal promises discounted at bank rates, he would be on intimate terms with the whole Rothschild family inside of two days.

Puck speaks of the "parliamentary foul"—the hen that made a motion to lay on the table. But this bird wasn't half as thoughtful as the cow who suggested a motion to a-churn.

California is paying great attention to the culture of the banana, and in a little while returned California's and the local papers will be trying to make us believe that in that wonderful State single bananas are sold by the yard.

Don't you wish you were the Emperor of Germany? The other day he received a Brunswick sausage six feet high for a birthday present, and for two whole days he was so proud and stuck up over it that he would scarcely speak to Bismarck.

The other day one of our editors cut out of an eastern paper a map of the Russian war, and hung it on a hook for reference. One of the compositors, prowling about for copy, got hold of it, thought it was an editorial article, and set up a column and a half on "A new plan for funding the national debt" before the foreman discovered what he was at and killed him.

NEWS OF THE MORNING.

Secretary Sherman will strictly enforce the rule prohibiting two members of a family holding office in the Treasury Department. The rule will apply to brothers at the head of separate families.

The minority report of the Silver Commission is published. It strongly condemns the use of silver as a principal medium of exchange, denouncing the so-called double standard as an illusion and impossibility. The recommendations include the making of silver dollars a legal tender for any sum not exceeding $20, and to any amount in payment of dues to the Government except in payment duties on imports, the coins to be issued only in exchange for one and two dollar notes which are then to be destroyed. The coining of half eagles almost exactly the equivalent of a pound sterling and the cancellation of $3,000,000 of paper money each month are the principal features of this plan.

Ben Butler is growing at the President again.

Hayes is decidedly in favor of the remonetization of silver.

Four men were five days adrift on a doria without food or water, near Gloucester, Mass. They were rescued by a passing vessel.

There was a battle yesterday near Majat, lasting several hours. The Turks were defeated and lost 500 men. The Montenegrin losses are not ascertained.

The Bulletin of last Saturday afternoon publishes an open letter from Senator Sargent, relative to the alleged libels on him recently printed in the Chronicle. He says that every statement therein reflecting on his integrity is a base and unmitigated falsehood and libel. He announces his intention of continuing preferring complaints before the grand juries of the various counties in the State as soon as convened. He says he aims not at vengeance or persecution, but punishment. The letter makes an argument at length defending his mode of procedure, and claiming that the proprietors of the Chronicle are determined that there shall be no trial if they can prevent it.

JUDGE BARNETT Monday rendered a decision in Washington in which he holds that the law of the Longshore Union Protective Association, making it compulsory on members not to work for less than forty cents per hour, is void, as being against public safety, and that members of the association dismissed for its violation must be reinstated. This decision affects 800 members of the Union expelled for disobedience to said law as well as trades unions generally.

The National Exchange Bank of New York, was robbed of a package containing $10,000 on Saturday afternoon. A young boy entered the bank and made some inquiries of the cashier which necessitated the cashier's opening the gate, and while his back was turned for a moment the boy got away with the money.

The Pope had to be withdrawn Sunday from the audience, on account of exhaustion, and returned only after repose. His doctors have decided that deputations in future will be consolidated, to avoid the excitement and fatigue of the Pope of receiving them in detail.

The torpedoes used by Turkey consist of large iron cases cylindrical in shape, filled with some 1,000 pounds of large grain powder, and so arranged as to float within 35 feet of the surface of the water. They are intended to be fired by electricity from the shore.

A man named Samuel Kinsman was stabbed in the back in Virginia City Monday night by parties to him unknown. His wounds are serious, possibly fatal.

The Sutor tunnel is now in 17,000 feet, and will hereafter be driven at the rate of 300 feet per month.

Diphtheria prevails fatally among the children of Winnemucca.

The monthly expenses of Storey county average about $11,000.

TO GRASS VALLEY, CAL.

The writer a few days since stepped aboard the train and was soon wending his way to the "Italy of America"—California. The moonlight gave the mountain scenery a beautiful appearance, and when we got a sight of Donner Lake the picture was perfect. The verdure is very luxuriant in California, in fact we never saw it better. There is but little snow on the mountains. Near Summit the ground is scarcely covered. The late fall there is all that lingers. Arriving at Colfax we found the little narrow gauge ready to convey us to our destination. The little engine and cars when placed beside the C. P. train looked like a precautionary toy. The only things big about those narrow gauge trains are the whistles and they are immense. Nothing on the C. P. equals them. When the whistle is turned loose one thinks Bedlam is unchained. After breakfast we stepped aboard the train and away we went. Passing under Long Bridge we soon lost sight of the C. P., and new scenes presented themselves. Every stream we cross is very muddy, from the hydraulic mining carried on above. The country is wild, romantic and beautiful. Dense forests and undergrowth, with fields carpeted with flowers make a scene full of interest to one who has seen sagebrush for a season. The easy riding coaches, the pleasant company, composed of Deputy Sheriff Byrne, Secretary of the narrow gauge Geo. Fletcher, and Conductor McKinney, and the beautiful morning added to the luxury. Finally our train drew up to the depot and we were home. Grass Valley, noted alike for its rich mines, its pleasant situation and its fruit, never looked better nor more prosperous. Nearly everybody was busy, and few idle men were seen, while tramps are almost a curiosity. Many new mines have been started lately, money is more plentiful, and altogether prosperity is here. The fruit crop this year will be considerable. Cherries are ripe, while peaches, apples, pears and plums are half grown. Grain is being cut by the ranches and fair crops realized. With regret we turned our face homeward, for the trip had been so pleasurable that we disliked to draw it to a close. As ill luck would have it we were delayed by the cave in tunnel No. 9, and had a monotonous time getting back to Reno.

THE HOPES OF THE VATICAN.

There is one element which is entering into the European agitation over the Eastern question which has not been duly recognized as yet, but which is destined to exert a powerful influence in its solution. It is the religious element. More and more it is becoming apparent that the true character of the Eastern question is a social one, and that the religious interests of the nations will be a determining factor in their councils.

The Church of Rome is interesting itself in this question, and the words of Cardinal Manning, on Easter day, were no idle prophecy. He saw in the solution of the Eastern question the independence of the Holy See. That the sacerdotal party in Europe has been exerting during the past few months all its secret powers to bring about a condition of affairs favorable to its interests, is becoming very evident. The leading diplomats of Europe have been the only ones thus far who have discerned this secret influence at work, and given it its proper value. Seen through this medium the meaning of much that has appeared strange and obscure in Germany, France and England becomes clear. The new Secretary of State of Pius IX. is a different sort of man from Cardinal Antonelli. Cardinal Simeoni is a man of action, with very little of the cold, repressive nature of Cardinal Antonelli. He will leave no means untried to bring about a reaction in the Pope's favor. The rejection of the clerical abuses bill by the Italian Senate, after it had passed the House, was a marked triumph for the sacerdotal party, and shows that the power of Catholicism is still strong in Italy. Indeed, the opinion is openly expressed by prominent Catholic organs that the members of the Senate, by whose votes the bill was rejected, are secret sympathizers of the Pope, and that there are many nearly related to the throne who wish to see the old order of things again established in Italy. Whether such opinions are justifiable or not, it is very evident that these are not the times to regard the Pope's case as hopeless, or his temporal kingdom as gone from him forever.

Bridge Bonds--School Boundary.

We inadvertently omitted two important items in our account of the proceedings of the County Commissioners yesterday, and now announce them:

An order was made to issue bonds to the amount of $16,000 to pay for the new bridge.

The school district boundary line between Glendale and Reno was ordered changed so that a tract some half a mile wide, lying along the south side of the river, be taken from the Glendale and added to the Reno School District.

The Bridge.

Work goes bravely on. The abutment at the south end of the bridge is being rapidly put together. The bulk of the old bridge stands yet. The large force employed makes it seem likely that the masons will be ready when the bridge arrives for it to be put into place.

What's in a Name.

To-day Grave Digger will contest the championship with Holy Terror. In explanation we would say they are horses, and belong respectively to Dean and Ward, who put up $40 each on those sepulchral named animals' superior speed.

A case of misdemeanor came before Judge Richardson yesterday. Knox and Rager cut down a rope which was used as a fence and went on ground which another party claimed. They were arrested, and tried, and the Judge took the matter under advisement.

Very quiet at the Court House yesterday. The officials were quietly doing their respective duties, but could not score up an item.

ELEVENTH SESSION--FIFTY DAY.

The Grand Lodge met in the Senate Chamber, at Carson, on Wednesday, the 5th, and was called to order at 10 A. M. by the Grand Master, C. C. Batterman.

The following Grand Officers answered to their names: C. C. Batterman, Grand Master; J. McChant, Warden; F. V. Drake, Secretary; L. L. Crockett, Treasurer; Geo. W. Chedick and J. D. Minor, Representatives; J. H. Martin, Guardian; J. King, Herald.

C. W. Jones was appointed Deputy Grand Master pro tem; J. D. Hammond, Chaplain; H. W. Wood, Sentinel; D. G. Kitzmeyer, Marshal.

The roll of Lodges being called, a quorum was found to be present.

The credentials of representatives were presented and referred. The Committee on Credentials made their report, the brothers were introduced and admitted to their seats.

Rever's Trial.

On Monday next the famous case of State vs. Rover, charged with killing J. N. Sharp near Winnemucca a year or so since, for which he has been convicted twice and once had a hung jury, will come up in Reno. This trial is intended to be a thorough one. Everything bearing upon the case at all will be produced. A careful survey has been made of the place where the tragedy occurred and the clothes Rover wore, which are said to be covered with blood and show other unmistakable evidences of the struggle and blood shed will be added in addition to the evidence produced at his last trial. This case has attracted a great deal of attention. Rover looks forward very cheerfully to the trial.

The wind arose yesterday and made it very unpleasant for people on the street.
